

RSAA Travel Awards – Privacy Notice for Applicants

Who we are. The Royal Society for Asian Affairs runs the RSAA Travel Awards and is the controller of your data. Contact: travelawards@rsaa.org.uk

What we collect. Your contact details, academic history, CV, research proposal and references.

Why we use it. To assess your application, run the selection process and, if you are successful, manage your award. Our lawful basis is legitimate interests.

Who sees it. Our staff and selection panel members. We do not sell your data or share it for marketing.

How long we keep it. Unsuccessful applications: 12 months after the decision.
Successful applications: until the award ends, with payment records kept for 6 years after that.

Your rights. You can ask to access, correct or delete your data, or object to how we use it. Contact travelawards@rsaa.org.uk. If you are unhappy, you can complain to the Information Commissioner's Office at ico.org.uk.